PLAIN AND FANCY BOOK AND JOB PRINTING I'F BILL-HEADS, VISITING, BUSINESS AND ADDRESS ARDS printed in the highest style of the art.

At Sea.

BY J. T. TROWSRIDGE. The night is made for cooling shade, For silence, and for sieep And when I was a child, I laid My hands upon my breast, and prayed, And sank to slumbers deep.

Childlike as then I lie to-night And watch my lonely cabin light. Each movement of the swaying lamp Shows how the vessel reels; As o'er her deck the billows tramp, And all her timbers strain and cramp

With every shock she feels. It starts and shudders while it burns, And in its hinged socket turns.

Now swaying slow, and slanting low, It almost level lies : And yet I know, while to and fro I watch the seeming pendule go With restless fall and rise, The steady shaft is still upright, Poising its little globe of light. O, hand of God ! O, lamp of peace O, promise of my soul! Though weak, and toesed, and ill at ease, Amid the roar of smiting seas, The ship's convulsive roll, I own, with love and tender awe, You perfect type of faith and law.

A heavenly trust my spirit calms, My soul is filled with light; The ocean sings its solemn pealms, The wild winds chant ; I cross my palms, Happy as if to-night Under the cottage roof again I heard the soothing Summer-rain.

The patter of little feet and the patter of the Summer rain are the sweetest music in the world in the garden feace. There was a reward offered the other day for the recovery of a large leather lady's traveling bag. Whether or not the large leather lady has got it back has not been stated.

When a man goes home after midnight and tenders his wife a box of fried oysters as a peace offering, the "fry" does not always prevent a "broil," and the man sometimes gets into a " stew" before he gets into bed.

A Frenchman is about opening a "Hymeneal Academy" in Covington, Ky., in which young ladies will be taught the marriage service, with all the proper sobs, sighs and hysterics, in three

In enumerating the arguments in favor of evo-lution, Professor Huxley omitted to state that a man loves to have his back scratched as much as a dog, but he can't express his satisfaction as keenly, because he hasn't any tail to wag.

An old lady, the other day, was told that eight mules were killed by lightning in an adjoining county. "Good gracious!" she ex-claimed, clasping her hands over her head: "I felt in my bones that something had happened to

Among the replies to an advertisement of a music committee for "a candidate as organist, music teacher," etc., was the following: " Gentlemen: I notice your advertisement for a music teacher and organist, either lady or gentleman. Having been both for several years, I offer you

A five-year-old tot, who had always closed her prayers at night with "And God help Katy to be a good girl," opened her eyes on that point one night in green-apple time, and said very decidedly, "I ain't a going to say the rest, for I don't want to be a good girl, I want to eat green apples and swallow 'em.

"Job printing! Job printing!" exclaimed Mrs. Partington the other day, as she peeped over her spectacles at an advertisement in a country newspaper. " Poor Job! they've kept him printing, week after week, ever since I learned to read, and if he wasn't the patientest man that ever was, he never could have stood it so

The two Bennetts took things very differently. Old J. G. B., when he got horsewhipped, used to write up from personal experience the best account in New York of the affair and sell any amount of extra Heralds. Young J. G. B. does'nt allow a word of the affair in the Herald when he is thrashed, but finds an errand out of town at once.

The Home Journal objects to the wearing of diamonds when traveling, because it is vulgar. It is a position which we assumed years ago, and we are glad to say that no one connected with this paper has ever been guilty of such vulgarity. We have occasionally taken a ride with a lawyer but there are some depths to which we

After-Dinner Orator-" Its in the wonderful insight inter 'uman nature that Dickens gets the pull over Thackeray; but, on t'other hand, it's in the brillant shafts o' satire, t'gether with a keen sense o' humor, that Dickery gets the pull over Thackens. It's just this: Tickery is the humorist and Dackens is the satirist. But, after all, it's 'bsurd to instoot any comparison between Dackery and Thickens." So none was "instooted."- London Judy.

An Indianian went into a Chicago saloon and asked for "a gin cocktail with some strength into it." The barkeeper made a mixture of alcohol, pepper sauce, absinthe, limes and pain-killer. 'Fifteen cents, responded the barkeeper. The customer put down a quarter and said: 'Keep the change—have something yourself;' then wringing the barkeeper's hand, he added: 'That's the first good gin I've tasted since I left home—something like liquor; it's sort of quick in taking hold, and slow in letting go. Come and see me, and I'll give you some corn whisky that's better still."
